The person(s) named as new customers have made any deposits required and are authorized to contract for utility services to the Service Address. I verify by my signature that all further utility bills for this property will be the responsibility of the new customer(s), that the GIS Owner surrenders the ability to disconnect utilities on behalf of the Service Address while the customer resides at the service address in the absence of a court order. I assume the risk that the new customer(s) will disconnect or transfer utility services without properly notifying the Owner. For a residential property, if I wish for services to continue to be provided to the Service Address after the new customer(s)'s Service Agreement terminates, then I will need to enter into an Underlying Service Agreement in my own name.

If the customer fails to pay sewer utility bills and I am the owner of the service address, then I should receive due notice before a lien for nonpayment attaches to my property. I must keep my information current to ensure proper receipt of notices.
